09.00 – 10.00 Visit to Cézanne's Studio.

Cézanne's studio, Aix-en-Provence

The Atelier des Lauves was Cézanne's last workshop, where he worked daily from 1902-1906. In this mythical place, Cézanne reached the maturity of his art, drawing inspiration from walking the paths of his olive grove. Here he created masterpieces such as his paintings of the "Great Bathers". The workshop first opened to the public as a museum in 1954, and following a recent, major restoration of its collections and its building, this emblematic place offers visitors an authentic leap back in time.

18.00 – 19.30 Early evening visit to the Roman Arena

Built around 100 AD, shortly after the Colosseum of Rome, it is one of the best-preserved Roman amphitheatres in the world. In Roman times, the building, which could hold 24,000 spectators, functioned as an arena where gladiators battled each other and wild animals. The advent of early medieval Christianity marked the end of these events, prompting the transformation of the amphitheatre into a fortress and subsequently a walled town. The 19th century saw the restoration of the largely intact arena.

Friday 4th

Meet in the lobby at 09.00. Short walk to Maison Carrée (3 mins)

09.30 – 10.30 Visit to Maison Carrée

We will explore this outstanding Roman temple and compare the building with the exterior of the juxtapositioned Carré d'Art contemporary art museum, designed by Norman Foster.

The Roman building is similar to a Tuscan style temple as described in the writings of Vitruvius. This is one of the best-preserved Roman temples to survive in the territory of the former Roman Empire. It inspired churches in Paris and Poland, as well as the Virginia State Capitol in the USA, which was designed by Thomas Jefferson after a stucco model he had made of the Maison Carrée while he was minister to France in 1785. In September 2023, the Maison Carrée was given UNESCO World Heritage status.

11.00 – 12.30 Visit to the Musée des Beaux Arts, Nîmes (11min walk)

Founded in 1821 and originally housed in the Maison Carrée, the museum has since 1907 been housed in a building designed by the architect Max Raphael, which was renovated by the architect Jean-Michel Wilmotte in 1987. The collection now includes 3,600 works. The current director, Barbara Gouget, is responsible for innovative exhibitions which present paintings and sculptures from the 14th to the 19th centuries in imaginative ways.

09.00 – 10.00 Travel by coach to Avignon

10.00 – 11.30 Locally guided visit to the Palais des Papes

As well as its bridge, Avignon is famous for being the seat of the papacy from 1309, when Clement V decided Rome was too violent and unstable, until 1377, when the seat returned to Rome, as the resting place of St. Peter. However, when the pope in Rome died the following year, a conflict arose between Rome and Avignon, resulting in the Western Schism (1378–1417), a period when the Catholic Church had two competing claims to the papacy, one based in Rome and another in Avignon. The Papal Palace in Avignon was built to impress, with its immense scale and was enormously expensive, consuming much of the papacy's income during its construction.

Opened in 1976, the museum houses a significant collection of both medieval and early Italian renaissance art. Built in the early 14th century as the residence of the bishops of Avignon, the building occupies the north side of the square overlooked by the Palais des Papes. It was made a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1995

Known to local citizens as la Bonne Mère, it is the city's best-known symbol and the most visited site in Marseille. It was built on the foundations of an ancient fort at the highest natural point in the city, 150 metres above the Old Port of Marseille. The first chapel built on this site was completed in 1218, but the current basilica was consecrated in 1864. Because of its strategic location, the site has a varied and colourful religious and military history, matched perhaps appropriately by its highly colourful marble, gilt and mosaic interior.
